

Alex Walters
Field Trip & Camp Coordinator
The Science Zone
Casper, WY

Biography: Alex Walters is the Field Trip and Camp Coordinator at the Science Zone. She has a bachelor's degree in zoology, with an emphasis on ecology and animal behavior. Alex does research with insects, bird banding, and urban ecology.

Workshop: Ecosystem Exploration - Join the Science Zone as we dissect owl pellets! Learn about the importance of owls and other birds in their ecosystems, explore food webs, and dive into Wyoming ecology. Additionally, we have several reptiles in our museum that we like to bring out when we talk about food webs. I'll bring a bearded dragon that students can meet!
