

Derek Walton, OD
Optometrist
Hometown Eyecare and Optical
Riverton, Wyoming

Biography: Dr. Derek Walton was raised in Riverton and graduated from Riverton High School in 2000. He then received an Associate of Applied Science degree in Business Management at Ricks College, a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology at the University of Wyoming, and a Doctor of Optometry degree in 2011 at the Southern California College of Optometry.

Dr. Walton is the owner/optometrist at Hometown Eyecare and Optical in Riverton. He loves all aspects of being an optometrist from treating eye diseases and injuries to helping patients have clear vision with eyeglasses and contact lenses. When he is not working, he enjoys sports, playing games, and spending time in the outdoors with his wife, Ashley, and their four children.

Workshop: More Than Meets the Eye - Learn all about the most incredible part of the human body - the eye. You will be dissecting a cow's eyeball to see what is inside, then you'll get to check your friend's eyes with the doctor's equipment.
